

LOSS OF SIX LIVES

And Probably a Great Many More.

ALL ON BOARD THE NASHUA

The Missing Steamer Which Has Been Adrift on Lake Huron Since Monday Night.

PORT HURON, Oct. 6.—The missing steamer Nashua was found bottom up on Lake Huron this morning. The entire crew are supposed to have been drowned. The names of the victims so far as known are:

Captain Archie, pilot, Port Huron; captain, Richard Miller, Detroit; Mrs. Richard Miller, Detroit; John Putnam, engineer, Detroit; Charles Shepard, mate, Brockway; Mrs. Charles Shepard, Brockway.

The names of the others of the crew cannot be learned here.

The Nashua was loaded with lumber from Georgian bay to Toledo. She was worth $15,000 and was insured for $12,000.

The tug which went in search of the steam barge which has been adrift on Lake Huron since Monday night arrived in Sand Beach this noon and reports having found the Nashua bottom side up twenty miles from Bayfield at daylight this morning. The tug made a diligent search in the neighborhood for some of the crew, but could not find a trace of any of them, and it is feared that all are lost.

Captain and Mrs. Miller left no family. Captain Miller owned a third of the unfortunate boat.

STATE FARMERS' ALLIANCE. Officers Elected for the ensuing year. New Deal Throughout.

LANSING, Oct. 6.—The state farmers' alliance elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, Robert McDougal, Hillsdale; vice-president, Perry Mayo, Battle Creek; secretary, Mrs. Mary Wilson, Jackson; treasurer, Mrs. N. L. Stooking, Ingham; chaplain, the Rev. J. W. Russell, Kalamazoo; lecturer, R. W. Kellogg, Ionia; doorkeeper, Frank Sherwood, Livingston.

This is a record all the way through, and the rumors that dissatisfaction existed among the members evidently have a foundation. It was charged by some of the members that the funds of the order had dwindled from about $1,000 to less than $200. The report of the treasurer, could not be reached, which was an entirely unusual proceeding.

State Sunday Schools.

RAY CITY, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the State Union Sunday School association, held here yesterday morning, arrangements were perfected for holding the thirty-second annual convention in this city November 15, 16 and 17. Among the members of the executive board present were E. A. Hough, of Jackson, chairman; Rev. J. H. Moore, of Ypsilanti; Charles E. Adams, Detroit; Rev. H. S. Jordan, Lansing; M. H. Reynolds, Owosso; J. M. Davis, Kalamazoo.

Couple Asphyxiated.

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—James Rogers and his wife were found dead at their home, No. 135 Jefferson avenue, this afternoon having been asphyxiated by coal gas. Both had been dead for some hours when found, and from the position of the bodies had evidently tried to reach a window but were overcome before they succeeded. Rogers was a deputy sheriff connected with the justice courts. He was 50 years old and his wife 48.

Fort Brady Fired.

SARASOTA, Fla., Oct. 6.—The building at New Fort Brady, nearly destroyed by fire, the fire originated in the stable building, but was quenched before it had time to spread. It is thought by the assistant quartermaster, Capt. G. S. Hoyt, that the fire was not interfered with the moving of the company from the old to the new post early next month. The buildings were insured by the contractors. Damage, $2,000.

Benton Harbor's Boom.

BENTON HARBOR, Oct. 6.—Wednesday afternoon C. W. Edick, S. S. Morton and J. E. Stevens bought the Excelsior gas plant here from Peter Engle. A reorganization of the company will be effected in a few days and new officers elected. Mr. Engle, who has done more for Benton Harbor in the last few years than any other man, will devote his attention to his many other interests.

Hand Smashed.

RAY CITY, Oct. 6.—Yesterday afternoon Ben Glover, employed by the Cincinnati, Saginaw & Mackinac railway in the capacity of baggage master at the depot on Midland street, was doing some work in the yard when his hand was caught between two cars. The result was that the member was badly smashed, the small bones of the hand and wrist being broken and bruised.

Suicide at Hudson.

Hudson, Oct. 6.—Ira C. Wykoff, city marshal, hanged himself this morning. There is a possibility that he was overburdened with duties, as he was clerk of the water board, collector of village taxes and water rent, and had charge of all water connections. He was a member of Daniel's battery in the war and will be buried with military honors on Sunday.

Detroit Man Killed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—James Mooney, from Detroit, was drinking beer with Mrs. Mary Correll in her room on Harrison street. Fred Covell, the woman's husband, who is a restaurant waiter, suddenly entered, reproached his wife and smashed Mooney on the head with a beer bottle. Mooney was taken to the hospital and subsequently died.

Won't Be Hammered Next Year.

LANSING, Oct. 6.—The Michigan state board of health will, at its regular meeting next week, take steps to make a test case in the courts and determine what, if any, defect exists in the present law relative to the protection of health and public in operation quarantine regulations, and if defective to be remedied at the next legislative session.

CASH, GIVE US CASH

A Pathetic Appeal for Blood Money

MADE BY TEARFUL DEMOCRATS

The Democratic National Committee Issues a Remarkable Begging Circular. They Are In Dire Straits.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The following address was issued this evening:

Headquarters democratic national committee, No. 139 Fifth avenue, New York, Oct. 6.—To the People of the United States.—The issues of the campaign are made up and are before you for your judgment. They are so sharply defined and at last so well understood that no intelligent man can fail to apprehend them or know what great governmental policies he will choose for his country, when he shall come to exercise his sovereign power on election day. The gravity of the crisis to the nation's life appeals to every citizen of the republic to prepare to cast his ballot by giving to that sacred and supremely timely meditation, undisturbed by passion or prejudice, and with his search for the right illumined by his love of country, decreed for the happiness and prosperity of all his countrymen. It is universally conceded that as the verdict of the people is now made up, the tendency of this government will be determined, and that on the rectitude or error of their judgment in this contest turn questions involving the future welfare of Americans. With an abiding faith, therefore, in the intelligence, the patriotism and the political purity of the masses, believing that the principles of our party, practically applied in governing, will achieve the greatest good to the greatest number, and that the political heresy which vaults the wealth and luxury of a class especially favored by law, as evidence of the prosperity of the people, has found no lasting lodgment in your minds, we ask your suffrages for the candidates of the democratic party.

The Choice of Candidates.

The record of each candidate for the presidency in the administration of that office is before you. The characters, the records, the attainments, the courage, and the fidelity to you and to all of you, which have been by them brought to your service in that great trust are to be compared by you, and you are to judge between them on the evidence presented by their plain records. Arrayed against us in the struggle which is now on are all the sinister forces which unlimited money can equip. Organized bodies of men who have gathered enormous wealth at the expense of the people under unjust tariff laws, and who have bargained to contribute for election purposes, in consideration of the enactment of such laws, help to fill to overflowing the republican campaign treasury. Rich men add to the fund on promises of the highest places of honor and trust in the gift of the nation. An army of officeholders, by choice of compulsion, pay into the same treasury. Corporations holding ill-gotten lands of the people by their contributions seek to keep from power a party and candidates determined to right injustice and to restore to the people an army and a final assault upon the freedom and legally forfeited subsidies of the public domain.

The Old Story Repeated.

With abundant means, with subsidized ingenuity, with a body of hired professionals, drilled and experienced in political intimidation and political debauchery, our opponents are preparing a final assault upon the freedom and honesty of the ballot. Those most exposed to temptation from poverty or debt, from avarice, party ambition or personal animosities, are being stealthily sought out and are a regular or organized system, and the means are made ready to hand. When money is the purpose when the time shall come to tempt them to be false to their country at the polls. Whenever men are employed they are listed, their characters and histories set down and most powerful influence likely to control each man, when money is found who cannot, by such schemes, be brought to directly vote as desired, the system includes the alternative of keeping them for the polls by ostensible and highly paid employment, by intimidation, or by other methods which the ingenuity and resources of skilled manipulators employed for such purposes. This committee has no troops or officeholders at its command. It will not agree to sell the future legislation on congress for money paid now into its party treasury. It will not agree to give high places in the government to those who will not contract to uphold a bargain heretofore made by the republican party under cover of law for any contribution however it appeals to the people against one and all of these opponents thus corruptly handed against the friends of good government.

They Want Money.

We have no resource except what the people furnish. We call for means not only to spread the truth among the people and to aid in getting to the polls the full and honest vote of the masses, but also to detect, to prosecute and to punish crime against the purity of the ballot, wherever in the United States they are perpetrated, and by whomsoever committed or directed. Every indication points to the defeat of the Minneapolis candidates and to the triumph of Cleveland and Stevenson. The popular voice will clearly favor the democratic cause. All anxiety about the state of New York is allayed and she will give her electoral vote for our candidates. All reports from independent and conservative sources in other parts of the country are exceptionally promising. With vigilance and timely action everywhere, which with your aid we pledge, honest ballots will be polled, counted and declared throughout the country and if this done defeat is not possible. This committee calls upon all good citizens for the aid which it requires for these objects. It invites and will welcome contributions from every honest man. No contribution will be accounted too small. Wherever a bank or a postal money order office can be found, the means exist for placing all the deposits of this committee funds in the aid of the great cause which we uphold.

(Signed) WILLIAM HARRITY, Chairman Democratic National Committee. JESSE M. DICKINSON, Chairman Campaign Committee.

STRAIGHTS WANT A SHOW.

The Regular Democrats of Kansas Declare War on the Fusionists.

TOPEKA, Oct. 6.—The state convention of straight democrats meets in this city tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. It is expected that the delegates will be in attendance. It is not the intention to nominate a state ticket but to denounce the action of the democratic state convention of July 16 in nominating the state ticket of the people's party and practically abandoning the democratic state organization. The failure of the central committee to meet here this afternoon. The first district congressional committee appeared before it and urged that the state central committee demand that the people's party withdraw the name of Fred Close, the populist candidate for congress, has been nullified by their action. None may have a clear field against the republican candidate. The district committee claims that delegates from the first district to the state convention were induced to vote for the endorsement of the people's party ticket by the promise that the understanding that Close would be withdrawn. They now say that this promise has not been kept. The state central committee takes the position that it has no right to interfere in district affairs. The straight democrats claim that fusion in Kansas has been the ruin of the state and that the state people's party ticket will certainly be defeated.

MORE THAN THEY EXPECTED.

Democrats Carry Georgia by 75,000 an Increased Majority.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—The election yesterday was a surprise to everybody. Conservative democrats estimated that placed the majority at 50,000 and there were very few democrats who predicted that much. It may be said that 40,000 majority was the average conservative estimate of the state. The people's party, after the fusion with the leaders of the republicans counted on carrying the state by 30,000 majority. The majority of the democrats will not vary much from 75,000, the largest majority the state has polled in years. The negroes generally voted with the democrats disregarding the instructions of the republican leaders. In Elbert county there were about twenty-five white and colored men hurt in a general melee, some seriously. No other difficulty of any importance reported. In Watson district (the tenth) the democrats carried it by 1,000 votes.

MCKINLEY IN CONNECTICUT.

He Says America Should Legislate for America Only.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Oct. 6.—Governor McKinley tonight spoke to the largest audience ever gathered in the New Britain opera house. Fully 2,000 people being present. When he was introduced the entire audience joined in vociferous cheers. Governor McKinley spoke at great length on the tariff, and concluded his speech by saying that the American policy should be to legislate for America only, irrespective of the views of Europe which wants the trade of this country.

Judge Gresham's Position.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Franklin McVeagh, brother of Judge McVeagh and an intimate friend of Judge Gresham, in an interview this afternoon explains the judge's position in politics. "Judge Gresham's change of faith," Mr. McVeagh says, "is due solely to the tariff issue, and while he makes no secret of his attitude, he is not a convert to the traditions of his position as United States circuit judge are opposed to his taking part in the campaign. For that reason he will not write a public letter, nor will he permit himself to be interviewed."

Will Hang on Till After Election.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—The motion of Attorney General Smith to dismiss the appointment suit on the ground of collusion between the republicans who are parties to it, was before the supreme court today. The suit was ordered. An order was then entered fixing the hearing of the motion for October 11, and authorizing the parties to the suit to file affidavits and counter-affidavits if so desired. It is generally believed that a decision cannot be reached before the election.

$5,000 to See Hill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The ten democratic societies of California tonight decided to send a representative to New York with an invitation to Senator Hill to come to California and stump the state. They have raised $5,000, which will be used to defray Hill's expenses. They will put a special train at his service and he will own the state while he is there. The societies hope he may accept the offer, as there is a keen desire to see him.

Rhode Island Nominations.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 6.—The state republican convention today nominated the following presidential electors: Louis Lorillard, W. A. Bowler, Joshua Willour and W. H. Haskell. The district conventions were held immediately after adjournment. Lieutenant Governor Melville Hall of Middletown was nominated for congressman in the first district and A. Capron of Smithfield, speaker of the house, in the second.

Kickers Were There.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6.—Tonight a big mass meeting in Monument square formally opened the democratic campaign in this city. Senator Gorman was the only absentee among the bright lights of the party. His absence was compensated for in part at least by the presence of those known among the regulars as "kickers."

New Indian Agency.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Ambrose H. Hill of Escondido, Cal., was today appointed by the president a special agent to make allotments of lands in several territories to Indians under the act of October 3, 1887.

Scenes in the Last Hours of the Poet Laureate.

DEATH OF ALFRED TENNYSON

Commented On By The English Press. Swinburne Suggested for His Successor as Poet Laureate.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Alfred Tennyson died at 1:35 o'clock this morning. Lady Tennyson, his son, Hallam, and his wife, Sir Andrew Clark, Dr. Dabbs, the nurses and other servants who had been with him for twenty-five years, were at his bedside when death came. He was tranquil, conscious and painless to the end. Yesterday morning Tennyson was turned at his request, to face the light. After looking at the window for several minutes, he spoke of the brilliancy of the sunshine and the clearness of the air. Early in the afternoon he slept lightly. He awoke in full consciousness. He asked for his favorite copy of Shakespeare, turned the leaves until he found "Cymbeline" and gazed at one page for several minutes, moving his lips as if reading to himself. The watchers waited in silence for him to speak, but he finally laid down the volume without uttering a word, and with his finger still between the leaves fell asleep. The book was not removed. When Tennyson awoke to ward evening he could speak only in a weak whisper. He thanked Dr. Dabbs and Sir Andrew Clark for their faithful attendance and commended care for the servants who had helped care for him during his illness and whispered a word or two of gratitude to the nurses.

Dies Claspings Book of Shakespeare.

As the evening advanced the moon rose in unusual splendor and flooded the room with light. Tennyson watched it through the curtainless window with his hand still resting between the leaves of "Cymbeline." At 1:10 he was sinking fast. Hallam Tennyson gave him a few spoonfuls of brandy and milk. He swallowed with difficulty and was unable to take further nourishment. At midnight he whispered very feebly his last words to his wife. His finger marked the thirteenth chapter of "Cymbeline," which he had last read, and thus he died.

"In all my experience," said Sir Andrew Clark, "I never witnessed anything more glorious. There were no artificial lights in the chamber. All was darkness except for the moonlight of the full moon, which fell upon the bed and played upon the features of the dying poet like the halo in a Rembrandt picture. The end was beautiful, calm and painless."

Said Hallam Tennyson: "He passed away as if asleep and the watchers could hardly distinguish the final moment."

During the last two days of his illness Tennyson was told occasionally of the hundreds of telegrams of inquiry received at Aldworth, and he expressed repeatedly his gratitude that many persons far and near, were watching anxiously the course of his illness. Hallam Tennyson read the dispatches from the queen each day until yesterday, and his father listened with evident pleasure. Lady Tennyson made a leave effort this morning to rally under her grief, but she is almost prostrated by sorrow and fatigue.

Tardy Announcement of His Death.

The poet's death was announced only after prolonged delay. Shortly before 2 o'clock the sky became clouded and a cold rain began to fall. Most of the reporters who had waited outside the gate left the house later Sir Andrew Tennyson's death, and from him came the first news of the poet's death. This evening Tennyson lies on the bed on which he died. He looks hardly sixty years old. The lines and wrinkles have vanished from his face and his hair is usually unkempt, has been trimmed and brushed. His hands are folded on his breast, wreaths of laurel are at his head and feet and Virginia creepers and autumn leaves are scattered around him. The room is lighted dimly with gas and candles. Although the surroundings of the death bed are solemnly impressive, gains have been taken in deference to the dead poet's feelings often expressed to his family to avoid everything suggestive of funeral forms. The space reserved in Westminster Abbey for Tennyson's body is just to the left of Robert Browning's tomb. No memorial service will be held in Hazlemer on Sunday, but it is understood that the bishop of Winchester will refer in his sermon at the parish church to the poet's death. Several news writers were today in mourning for Tennyson. All published long leaders that show a proper estimate of Tennyson's position among the British poets.

Comments of the English Press.

The St. James Gazette says: "The poet of our age has gone, with his singing robes about him, leaving a vacuum which will not die. It may be that others soared higher and touched deeper notes, but none spoke more words which knock at the hearts of the men of his time. He embodied all that is the best in the Victorian age. Since Goethe, none has had a larger vision; but the English owe him more than the Germans owe Goethe. The whole world is poorer by his death."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "His name will shine through the ages in the poetical galaxy. According to the judgement of the civilized world, he was the greatest of the poets of his time. The greatest side that Swinburne will probably succeed Tennyson as poet laureate and that in view of the abuses Swinburne has lavished upon Mr. Gladstone, the choice would be characteristic and in instance of a great man's magnanimity."

The Post says: "He was the Mendelssohn of poets. He played upon the unvoiced emotions of hearts. Poetry probably will not reckon him as high as Milton or Shakespeare. Even Browning had better notes. None, however, upheld better England's name and fame, never was there a clearer guide to things beautiful. There was no mysticism in his mind, it was as plain as a lake."

The Globe says: "We have lost the first Englishman of letters and the first poet. Perhaps he did not rise to Shelley's heights, but he knew the beautiful

DOES IT ONCE MORE

Nelson Again Breaks a World's Record.

2:11 3-4 ON A HALF MILE TRACK

This Is Also the Fastest Mile Ever Trotted On Any Track in New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 6.—Nelson the trotting stallion broke the world's record here today for a mile on the half mile regulation track going the distance in 2:11. He was driven by Mr. Nelson his owner who won the $5,000 purse offered. The mile is also the fastest ever trotted on any track in New Jersey. The performance took place at the Trenton driving park.

NANCY HANKS GOES IN INDIANA.

She Is Warmly Received and Goes a Mile in 2:06 Flat.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Oct. 6.—A crowd estimated at from 1,500 to 1,600 witnessed Nancy Hanks' wonderful performance yesterday afternoon at the New Albany fair grounds. She trotted a mile in 2:06 flat, which has been excelled but once on a regulation track and then by herself at Terre Haute last week, when she covered a mile in 2:04. The record was made when she appeared on the track for the first time. She was greeted with wild applause. Budd Doble, who held the reins over the daughter of Happy Medium, also received a warm welcome. After jockeying over the course a few times she started on the first or second mile, which was made in 2:19. Half an hour later she trotted the second heat in 2:19, and later the starter, Scott Newman of Louisville, announced to the grand stand that an hour later Nancy would go to beat her record of 2:04 at the Terre Haute track and 2:07 on the course at Ed. Ford, Minn. The two preliminary heats had put her in fine fettle and numerous bets were made that she would beat 2:07, while others more reckless were willing to risk their money that she would equal her 2:04 record. At 4:30 o'clock the trotting queen was brought out. Runner Abe Lincoln hitched in an old style sulky with Dr. Hollenback in the seat stood opposite the distance flag near the outer fence. Nancy was taken nearly to the turn in the stretch. As she neared Abe Lincoln a cyclone of other trial was necessary. In the second attempt Nancy came like a cyclone down the stretch with Abe on her wheel. Doble nodded for the word and was off. The gait was appalling. The first quarter was reached in 33.25. This was the "up hill" scene and the next quarter was passed in 1:36. The excited crowd began to cheer, but lapsed into silence as they realized the tremendous gait she was traveling. The burst of speed, as she came into the stretch and in view of the crowd was terrific. So fast did she come that many thought Doble had lost control of her. Not a false step did she make. On she flew, never faltering in the task before her as she squared herself for her final effort in her wonderful flight for the word. A deafening roar prevailed only broken by the hoof beats by herself and Abe Lincoln as she neared the judges stand. The final moment had arrived. As Doble gathered her for the effort he gently touched the reins with the whip. She responded gallantly and with one of his goal was reached. The crowd was in an uproar, and when the time was hung "2:06," pandemonium reigned for fully ten minutes. Hats and handkerchiefs were thrown in the air and the wild scene was followed. The crowd seemed crazy in its delirium of excitement, and when Doble drove back to the stand several thousand excited men and boys swarmed over the track, each anxious to see or pat the glossy hair of the little champion. The first heat tonight to Chillicothe, Ohio, where she has an engagement to drive Martha Wilkes in a race today. Nancy Hanks and her attendants will remain in New Albany for several days, as no arrangement has been made for her appearance in other places. The first chiefs came over from Louisville to witness the performance. Summary: 2:40 class, trotting, Tilly H. won, Pauline second, Lightburn third; time, 2:29. H. W. Fawcett, trotted his phenomenal two year old mare, Belle Or in last heat, 2:10, lowering her previous record of 1:11.

THAT G. A. R. BADGE.

A Glean of Gladness For Mrs. Harrison on Her Sick Bed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The following is the reply sent to Miss Clara Barton by Mr. Hallford in response to the letter which accompanied her presentation to Mrs. Harrison of the gold and silver souvenir badge by the ladies' citizens committee of the G. A. R. reunion:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, Sept. 30, 1892.—Miss Clara Barton, Mrs. W. W. Dukley, Washington: My dear ladies: Your letter to Mrs. Harrison with the accompanying souvenir of the recent encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, has been received. The very handsome and appropriate badge was brought to the personal attention of Mrs. Harrison. It being one of the few things she has been able to look at for some time past and also the kind terms in which you conveyed it to her. She was much touched by the evidence of the regard of her associates on the ladies' citizens committee and wished me to give her grateful thanks to both Mrs. Harrison and to the other members of the committee. Very truly yours, E. W. HALLFORD, private secretary."

Free Importation for Two Months and One Cent Per Bushel for Two Months.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Secretary Rank has received through the department of state advice coming from the United States consul general at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, not only confirming the dispatch recently made guiding by arranging which for the free importation of corn into Mexico to have been extended to November 30, but stating further that "in addition to the above, I am informed that between December 1 and January 31 next, only one-fourth of the regular duty, which is 1 cent per bushel, will be levied on corn imported from Mexico. This free importation until the end of November and reduced import duties until January 31 has caused a greatly increased demand for our American corn, particularly in all the regions west of the Mississippi. The extension of the time for the free or reduced import duties will continue the demand and probably double the amount of the imports. At present from fifty to seventy-five carloads of corn are sent through this port daily to points west into the interior. The local demand from northern Mexico is nearly supplied."

To Run 100 Miles an Hour.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 6.—The town was in holiday attire today and all the people gathered in the wheel field near the lake and saw the house of the Chicago & St. Louis Electric Railway company to see little Alice Adams strike the first blow into the earth and break ground for the construction of the electric line over which cars are to run at the rate of 100 miles an hour. The actual work of construction will begin tomorrow.

Fast Time at Pinckney.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6.—No better harness racing was ever seen in Maryland than that shown at Pinckney today. Seventeen heats were trotted and paced in fast time. The weather was delightful and the crowd immense. The 227 races left unfinished yesterday was won by Royal Fleet, he taking the only heat trotted today in 2:11. Edgewood took

ALL ON BOARD THE NASHUA

The Missing Steamer Which Has Been Adrift on Lake Huron Since Monday Night.

PORT HURON, Oct. 6.—The missing steamer Nashua was found bottom up on Lake Huron this morning. The entire crew are supposed to have been drowned. The names of the victims so far as known are:

Captain Archie, pilot, Port Huron; captain, Richard Miller, Detroit; Mrs. Richard Miller, Detroit; John Putnam, engineer, Detroit; Charles Shepard, mate, Brockway; Mrs. Charles Shepard, Brockway.

The names of the others of the crew cannot be learned here.

The Nashua was loaded with lumber from Georgian bay to Toledo. She was worth $15,000 and was insured for $12,000.

The tug which went in search of the steam barge which has been adrift on Lake Huron since Monday night arrived in Sand Beach this noon and reports having found the Nashua bottom side up twenty miles from Bayfield at daylight this morning. The tug made a diligent search in the neighborhood for some of the crew, but could not find a trace of any of them, and it is feared that all are lost.

Captain and Mrs. Miller left no family. Captain Miller owned a third of the unfortunate boat.

STATE FARMERS' ALLIANCE. Officers Elected for the ensuing year. New Deal Throughout.

LANSING, Oct. 6.—The state farmers' alliance elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, Robert McDougal, Hillsdale; vice-president, Perry Mayo, Battle Creek; secretary, Mrs. Mary Wilson, Jackson; treasurer, Mrs. N. L. Stooking, Ingham; chaplain, the Rev. J. W. Russell, Kalamazoo; lecturer, R. W. Kellogg, Ionia; doorkeeper, Frank Sherwood, Livingston.

This is a record all the way through, and the rumors that dissatisfaction existed among the members evidently have a foundation. It was charged by some of the members that the funds of the order had dwindled from about $1,000 to less than $200. The report of the treasurer, could not be reached, which was an entirely unusual proceeding.

State Sunday Schools.

RAY CITY, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the State Union Sunday School association, held here yesterday morning, arrangements were perfected for holding the thirty-second annual convention in this city November 15, 16 and 17. Among the members of the executive board present were E. A. Hough, of Jackson, chairman; Rev. J. H. Moore, of Ypsilanti; Charles E. Adams, Detroit; Rev. H. S. Jordan, Lansing; M. H. Reynolds, Owosso; J. M. Davis, Kalamazoo.

Couple Asphyxiated.

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—James Rogers and his wife were found dead at their home, No. 135 Jefferson avenue, this afternoon having been asphyxiated by coal gas. Both had been dead for some hours when found, and from the position of the bodies had evidently tried to reach a window but were overcome before they succeeded. Rogers was a deputy sheriff connected with the justice courts. He was 50 years old and his wife 48.

Fort Brady Fired.

SARASOTA, Fla., Oct. 6.—The building at New Fort Brady, nearly destroyed by fire, the fire originated in the stable building, but was quenched before it had time to spread. It is thought by the assistant quartermaster, Capt. G. S. Hoyt, that the fire was not interfered with the moving of the company from the old to the new post early next month. The buildings were insured by the contractors. Damage, $2,000.

Benton Harbor's Boom.

BENTON HARBOR, Oct. 6.—Wednesday afternoon C. W. Edick, S. S. Morton and J. E. Stevens bought the Excelsior gas plant here from Peter Engle. A reorganization of the company will be effected in a few days and new officers elected. Mr. Engle, who has done more for Benton Harbor in the last few years than any other man, will devote his attention to his many other interests.

Hand Smashed.

RAY CITY, Oct. 6.—Yesterday afternoon Ben Glover, employed by the Cincinnati, Saginaw & Mackinac railway in the capacity of baggage master at the depot on Midland street, was doing some work in the yard when his hand was caught between two cars. The result was that the member was badly smashed, the small bones of the hand and wrist being broken and bruised.

Suicide at Hudson.

Hudson, Oct. 6.—Ira C. Wykoff, city marshal, hanged himself this morning. There is a possibility that he was overburdened with duties, as he was clerk of the water board, collector of village taxes and water rent, and had charge of all water connections. He was a member of Daniel's battery in the war and will be buried with military honors on Sunday.

Detroit Man Killed.
